 weeknighttesting added Ajay Balamurugadas, Echo / Sound Test Service, Maik ***

 weeknighttesting added Darren McMillan ***

weeknighttesting: We shall look for functional bugs in the webpage <http://tinyurl.com/> from 1930 to 2030

Ajay Balamurugadas: yes

Lisa Crispin: ok. This is lunchtime for me but I will work on it as much as I can.

weeknighttesting: from 2030 we will discuss on the strategy, bugs, traps, heuristics each one of use during the session

Ajay Balamurugadas: Hope I am on time :) Hi All

weeknighttesting: u r Ajay

Lisa Crispin: is this all by chat or do we actually do a phone call?

weeknighttesting: Its all by chat :)

Lisa Crispin: cool

Darren McMillan: Hi everyone

Darren McMillan: Glad you could make it Lisa ;)

 weeknighttesting added Del Dewar ***

Lisa Crispin: does it bug whoever produces tinyurl to have a bunch of people hacking away at it? Do they know we are doing it?

Darren McMillan: possibly Darren McMillan: it would bug me if they did it and never let me know about the bugs :)

Darren McMillan: if they did let me know about the bugs I'd be grateful weeknighttesting: We shall share the bugs with tinyurl :)

Darren McMillan: :)

weeknighttesting: Mission for the session : We shall look for functional bugs in the webpage <http://tinyurl.com/> from 1930 to 2030. From 2030 we will discuss on the strategy, bugs, traps, heuristics each one of use during the session

Darren McMillan: your to sharp Del ;)

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

weeknighttesting: excuse the typos team. I am using my frnds laptop with a different keyboard layout

Lisa Crispin: ok, so we should start now I guess.

weeknighttesting: yes

weeknighttesting: we shall test for an hour

Darren McMillan: If you'd like to pair Lisa I'd be happy to do so weeknighttesting: and from 2030 share our ideas

weeknighttesting: gr8 idea Darren

weeknighttesting: Team any one looking to pairup with Rakesh?

Lisa Crispin: oh - ok

Lisa Crispin: cool

Ajay Balamurugadas: I am sorry. i am trying out Rapid Reporter & something else. I may not be a good partner for this WT .

 Ajay Balamurugadas added mike.a.scott  weeknighttesting: Ajay u could share ur exp using rapid reporter after the test session. I would be happy to share my exp using rapid reporter mike.a.scott: Good evening everyone

weeknighttesting: Welcome to the session Mike weeknighttesting: Rakesh is looking to pair up for some pair testing. would u be interested

Lisa Crispin: hi Mike!

mike.a.scott: Hi Lisa welcome to the session.

mike.a.scott: Yes interested in pairing how do you make it work?

weeknighttesting: u team up with Rakesh over skype

weeknighttesting: test until 2030 together

Ajay Balamurugadas: Any quick thoughts on what's not a functional bug?

weeknighttesting: wht do u feel?

Ajay Balamurugadas: confused, blank right now.

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

mike.a.scott: Sorry can you repeat mission please?

weeknighttesting: We shall look for functional bugs in the webpage <http://tinyurl.com/> from 1930 to 2030. From 2030 we will discuss on the strategy, bugs, traps, heuristics each one of use during the session weeknighttesting: @Ajay - report those issues which u feel is functional/not-functional during the discussion. Lets see wht the team feels abt it

mike.a.scott: Just getting set up then I'll get pairing with you Rakesh if that OK with you?

weeknighttesting: 30 mins more  weeknighttesting added tonybruceuk ***

tonybruceuk: Evening, sorry I'm late.

Darren McMillan: I'm impressed

Darren McMillan: TinyURL was created!

Darren McMillan: nice work :)

Darren McMillan: Where is Sebi when you need a million chat test?

weeknighttesting: Good one Darren :)

weeknighttesting: Team 15 mins more weeknighttesting: Team 10 more mins

weeknighttesting: last 5 min

Lisa Crispin: brb

weeknighttesting: TIMES UP :)

weeknighttesting: Team stop testing

Ajay Balamurugadas: Done

weeknighttesting: Others?

Lisa Crispin: others what?

weeknighttesting: stop testing

Lisa Crispin: ah

weeknighttesting: its time for discussion

Lisa Crispin: have stopped

Rakesh Reddy: stopping.....

Rakesh Reddy: stopped

weeknighttesting: whts stopping... :)

Ajay Balamurugadas: stopping.....:)

weeknighttesting: There are only 7 of us in the session. How about we share experience for 10 min each?

weeknighttesting: Some pointers to share

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

- bugs
- how did u plan ur test?
- heuristics used
- what did u target in the webpage?
- did u meet the mission?
- was the session fun?

Lisa Crispin: ok, who goes first?

weeknighttesting: any one

Ajay Balamurugadas: plz give a min time

Ajay Balamurugadas: so that everyone can write offline

weeknighttesting: @Lisa - u could go first if u ready

Ajay Balamurugadas: & be ready weeknighttesting: sure

Lisa Crispin: I'd rather someone else did since I've never done this before

Lisa Crispin: but I can if nobody else wants to Darren McMillan: sure I'll jump in

Darren McMillan: me and Lisa paired

| Edited 8:45:37 PM] Darren McMillan: we spent the first 10 mins I guess deciding on a method for collaboration

| Edited 8:45:48 PM] Darren McMillan: Lisa suggested mindmeister which was a collaborative mind mapping tool

Darren McMillan: good fun & very useful weeknighttesting: cool wht did u use mindmeister for?

Darren McMillan: our unclean report is here <http://www.mindmeister.com/maps/show/76381391>

Darren McMillan: dunno if that shows for everyone

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Darren McMillan: I started out looking at claims then progressed onto other types of testing

Lisa Crispin: you may have to sign up with mindmeister, but we're happy to share the map with whoever wants to

Mike Scott: Needs a signin weeknighttesting: it requires a login :(

Darren McMillan: ahh I'll upload a screenshot soon sorry

Lisa Crispin: I've exported a pdf of it

Lisa Crispin: where could I put it?

Lisa Crispin: I can put it on my website later

Darren McMillan: we tried happy paths, domain testing, negative tests, locale, URL types & some security tests

Darren McMillan: we didn't find many issues

weeknighttesting: @Lisa You could share it in the chat window for now

Darren McMillan: but after reading Ajay's report I spotted issues I'd ignored that he noted :)

Darren McMillan: Perhaps I felt uninspired? :P

Darren McMillan: My personal view is we succeeded with the mission which was just to test it

Lisa Crispin: I don't know how to share in the chat, help please?

Darren McMillan: the site I personally felt wasn't much fun to test weeknighttesting: Ajay how did u share it? did u drag n drop the file to the chat?

weeknighttesting: the site I personally felt wasn't much fun to test

Darren McMillan: I'll screenshot it lisa and upload it to my site

 Lisa Crispin sent Testing_TinyURL.gif ***

Darren McMillan: ahh cool :)

Ajay Balamurugadas: ah, sorry

Lisa Crispin: I think my file might be too big

Ajay Balamurugadas: it was meant to Lisa

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Darren McMillan: what we did find was a few bugs in mindmeister :)

Del Dewar: lol

Darren McMillan: We also found it to allow XSS attacks

Darren McMillan: and as it's a collaborative feature if someone was to view your node their in trouble so to speak tonybruceuk: Heh, weedwatch?

Darren McMillan: so stay away from Mindmeister! 1st lesson of today ;)

Lisa Crispin: well, I was googling 'crazy urls'

Darren McMillan: thats me

Lisa Crispin: ok, I'll go next since Darren and I paired, I can just add a bit

weeknighttesting: cool...i will b very interested to see Darrens report

Ajay Balamurugadas: Aware of this: <http://www.hugeurl.com/>

Ajay Balamurugadas: well, I was googling 'crazy urls' Ajay Balamurugadas:

<<< <http://www.hugeurl.com/>

Lisa Crispin: I was surprised that it didn't validate the urls in any way. I could put urls that were the letter 'a' or the number '1' 200 times and it would happily make a tinyurl. I could put in spaces, extra 'http://', it doesn't care. Of course the link doesn't work.

weeknighttesting: Here is an archive from the first WT test session <http://www.scribd.com/doc/18321870/List-of-IssuesTesting-of-TinyURL>

Lisa Crispin: hah, I didn't know about hugeurl

Lisa Crispin: The first thing I tried was clicking 'make tiny' with no input at all - that does give an error msg

Lisa Crispin: happy path tests of all kinds worked - sites with different countries like .de, .li etc

Lisa Crispin: urls with lots and lots of nodes like that weed one

Lisa Crispin: also urls that end in png or pdf that download - all that was ok

Ajay Balamurugadas: Heh, weedwatch?What's this? Tool? Phrase?

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Lisa Crispin: I had trouble understanding custom urls but I got that figured out (that's more a usability thing than functionality)

annabaik: Wonder how these would fare: http://idn.icann.org/#The_example.test_names

Lisa Crispin: weedwatch is some marijuana study site

weeknighttesting: Wonder how these would fare: http://idn.icann.org/#The_example.test_names

Lisa Crispin: I also tried other functions such as preview, dragging the tinyurl link to my toolbar. I tested in Firefox and Safari, didn't have time for other browser types

Lisa Crispin: OH - the other character sets would have been a GREAT test, I didn't think of that

Lisa Crispin: I'm not good at these types of testing challenges, that's for sure

Darren McMillan: thats very useful Anna thanks (bookmarked)

Lisa Crispin: Also I tried a lot of special chars and negative tests like that Ajay Balamurugadas: My friend told me about www.supportdetails.com - Helps note major system details.

weeknighttesting: Others jump in start sharing

Lisa Crispin: I had fun pairing with Darren and chatting with you guys, and I am learning tips like the links y'all are sharing - thanks

weeknighttesting: Fantastic reports Darren n Lisa

Lisa Crispin: I suggest mindmeister for a future testing session!

Lisa Crispin: it has lots of weird behavior!

Mike Scott: Those links are great Anna thanks. Just tried the greek one (doesnt work in tiyurl) Ajay Balamurugadas: Wonder how these would fare: http://idn.icann.org/#The_example.test_namesGood one. I remember reading a blogpost from Santhosh at tuppad.com about this.

Darren McMillan: yeh I agree Mindmeister was fun, takes a while to get the hang of it

weeknighttesting: Others r u ready with ur experience write up

Del Dewar: yep

annabaik: Ajay - that might have been where I'd seen it first, I can't remember now

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

weeknighttesting: @Ajay whts on tht page. I am connected thru a dial up dongle and the page doesnot seem to open weeknighttesting: Del - go ahead with ur experience report

Ajay Balamurugadas: Good one Darren & Lisa.

Del Dewar: ok

Del Dewar: Well, I haven't really use shorteners before so I took some time to peruse the site and employ a couple of custom made heuristics

Del Dewar: There's a lot of information in this UGLY site so i took some time to get my bearings - "Stop & Stare" heuristic.

Ajay Balamurugadas: employ a couple of custom made heuristicsCool.

Del Dewar: Then I started randomly clicking on hyperlinks & buttons (it looked messy so I expected the behaviour to be messy) - "Restless Mouse Syndrome" heuristic

weeknighttesting: "Restless Mouse Syndrome" heuristic

Del Dewar: I decided rather than focus ont he obvious 'really long' URL approach to look at recursion

Del Dewar: and found the following bugs

Del Dewar: - If you recursively shorten your TinyURL N times you'll have to click N times to get to the source URL (with preview feature ON) - not technically a bug but pretty annoying :)

Del Dewar: - If you recursively shorten your TinyURL N times you get an ERROR after clicking the link (with preview feature OFF)

Del Dewar: Error: TinyURL redirects to a TinyURL.

The URL you followed redirects back to a TinyURL and therefore we can't directly send you to the site.

Del Dewar: Didn't expect the preview feature to change the behaviour of the site as such Mike Scott: I also tried recursion but it seemed to redirect properly to the root site

Del Dewar: it was a bit hit and miss mike - could be browser related?

Del Dewar: Did I meet the mission - in part, I guess weeknighttesting: others wht do u think?

Del Dewar: Was the session fun - sure - it's always fun talking with you guys.

Lisa Crispin: the recursion thing was a good idea

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Rakesh Reddy: good one Del

Mike Scott: Seemed to work OK for me in chrome. Didn't try preview though weeknighttesting: Cool Mike. Did any one try different browsers?

Rakesh Reddy: I have tried it on IE9

weeknighttesting: Rakesh, Mike ur report pls?

weeknighttesting: Tony did u have the time to test?

Mike Scott: Do you want to do your report first Rakesh. I don't think I was much help :(

Mike Scott: Rakesh?

Rakesh Reddy: yep i can go first..

Rakesh Reddy: I didn't really know how to start pair testing using chat, so myself and Mike agreed to test a functional area, discuss observations and proceed to other functional areas

[9:01:48 PM] Rakesh Reddy: We started with "Hide Urls" feature and found this bug, Second part of the Url with spaces are truncated when displayed in

"Enter another long URL to make tiny:" field available on resultant page of tiny url

[9:02:31 PM] Rakesh Reddy: By now i realized Mike had to take a phone call, so went ahead and spent remaining time testing Tiny Url toolbar on Firefox and IE9 (couldn't get it working on IE9 though) and some negative testing

Rakesh Reddy: Definitely wanted to try Preview, but times up !! will try it now

Lisa Crispin: Preview worked great for me but I didn't try IE at all Ajay Balamurugadas: On A scale of 1- 10 with 10 being max, how much functionality have we tested? After reading all the reports, I feel there is lot that we have not touched.

Rakesh Reddy: Everytime we create a tnyUrl IE9 prompts for permission to Allow Clipboard copy which was annoying

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

tonybruceuk: I did a bit, I was in late, I was going to give claims testing a try but claims that a billion urls have been done are a bit hard to confirm. I Found that already short URLs get converted to longer URLs and there is no validation whatsoever, you can pretty much stick in anything. I was on FF weeknighttesting: On A scale of 1- 10 with 10 being max, how much functionality have we tested? After reading all the reports, I feel there is lot that we have not touched.

Lisa Crispin: Darren wrote up something about claims on our mind map

Ajay Balamurugadas: 2-3.

Mike Scott: Didnt' really get started so prob 2

Lisa Crispin: it doesn't really seem to have that much functionality to me

Lisa Crispin: really I'd give it more of a 5

Mike Scott: My Report?

Darren McMillan: Yeah I'd started to look at claims and then saw there wasn't much in the way of claims worth testing

Del Dewar: For something that's meant to provide a simple service, there's actually quite a lot to test here... (as we've found)

weeknighttesting: @Mike go ahead

Ajay Balamurugadas: For something that's meant to provide a simple service, there's actually quite a lot to test here... (as we've found)Agree

Ajay Balamurugadas: Sorry Mike, plz continue

Mike Scott: Didn't really get started.

Had a bit of a plan with Rakesh but I didn't really pair up very well.

Think we should have used voice and screen sharing.

I don't think I was a good pair. A bit disorganised and I got a phone call half way through.

Definitely need shared notetaking facility maybe try google docs next time or shared mind mapping.

Only really had half hour andwas still getting to grips with it.

Couldn't really understand how hide URL was different.

Agree with Del site is really ugly

Lisa Crispin: I think it would be fun to pair with something like ichat and share desktop

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Ajay Balamurugadas: Definitely need shared notetaking facility tried www.typewith.me ?

Darren McMillan: I agree Lisa

Darren McMillan: I prefer to chat over voice but don't have a mike Del Dewar: we all have a mike - mike scott.

Darren McMillan: it's hard to focus / chat / focus / defocus / chat in pair sessions. A voice call would certainly help

Mike Scott: Too much choice with tools call me old but I still like Google Docs tonybruceuk: I didn't try it but I will later, I'm guessing your could probably interrupt the traffic and muck about with the returned url, change it to something already used, stuff like that.

Ajay Balamurugadas: I too have something to share

Ajay Balamurugadas: Experience:

First time I used Rapid Reporter in a WT session. Practice at office helped. Yes, you read it right. I practiced at office using RR. :) No one complained. Everyone was impressed. The session started off with a question to self - What is a functional bug? What is functionality? Anything related to functions? What would be a function? Then assumed that anything which involves input from a user (still not convinced as just viewing the browser could be an input).

Then I searched for HSTM & Test Eye's checklist. Yes, searched. I must have downloaded atleast 5 times before the session whenever I need them. Poor at sorting.

Launched www.tinyurl.com in Google Chrome. Opened each of the links in the left pane in new tab. The page was not scrolled to the appropriate text. Inconsistent behavior if the link was opened in the same window. Investigated this issue for 10-12 minutes.

Later, few small issues here & there. Don't remember now. Need to see RR report. Yes, I did play with clipboard, Java Script, Java On/Off. 10 minutes was spent there.

Power cut for 10 minutes. Machine start/shutdown, Skype login & setup - 10 minutes Good session, learnt more about my testing style. Enjoyed. Discussion also brought new test ideas :)

weeknighttesting: To me the biggest drawback with RR is that u can see only one line at a time

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Del Dewar: wow, you did all that with a power cut? Impressed!

weeknighttesting: u will have to use the arrow keys to re-visit

Mike Scott: To me one of the benefits of RR is you can only put in one line

Ajay Balamurugadas: u will have to use the arrow keys to re-visitDon't think it will work. It just takes you to the category, not to the typed text

Lisa Crispin: Wow, Ajay, you are so organized

Ajay Balamurugadas: Lisa, I have all the files on my pc but still I download everytime - need to be more organized :)

Del Dewar: To me one of the benefits of RR is you can only put in one lineAgreed. Minimalistic GUI is great and doesn't distract from testing

Rakesh Reddy: agree with Mike, i tend to revisit previous lines if there is more than one line

Mike Scott: Great idea practice for Weeknight testing in work time ;)

Ajay Balamurugadas: Sharath: You have notes feature

annabaik: On 12/01/2011, at 21:09, weeknighttesting wrote:

> To me the biggest drawback with RR is that u can see only one line at a time

Only one line of what you've entered? How can you scan back through your entries to review?

weeknighttesting: @Ajay ??

Lisa Crispin: well,I'm doing this in work time (I started on my lunchtime but I really need to start working now)

Ajay Balamurugadas: To me the biggest drawback with RR is that u can see only one line at a timeUse the notes feature

Lisa Crispin: I'm a fast typist so it was fine for me to put notes in TextWrangler or the mind map. Also the mind map allowed using icons like a checkmark

Rakesh Reddy: Can someone point me to a link which explain how to use RR

Lisa Crispin: but I haven't tried RR

Rakesh Reddy: please

Ajay Balamurugadas: any questions to me because I have one question to Del

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Ajay Balamurugadas: <http://testing.gershon.info/wp-content/uploads/2010/09/Rapid-Reporter-Readme.pdf>

weeknighttesting: <http://testing.gershon.info/reporter/>

Rakesh Reddy: Thanks Ajay

Ajay Balamurugadas: Assuming No questions to me, proceeding with question to Del.

When you say custom made heuristics, what is your thought process?

Ajay Balamurugadas: You prepare the heuristic first or you name after the test?

weeknighttesting: good question AJ

Del Dewar: I kind of played it by ear to be honest. I knew other people would be dealing with extremely long URLs so I was looking for the non-obvious area to target. Hence the 'stop and stare'.

Del Dewar: As for the 'restless mouse syndrome' it was kind of a reaction to the ugliness of the site

Ajay Balamurugadas: you observed the site, inferred that its ugly

Del Dewar: So I was thinking 'yuck, if you look that bad, how well can you function'?

annabaik: :) Sounds like another heuristic

Ajay Balamurugadas: and then you name a heuristic for that weeknighttesting: very interesting Del

Mike Scott: Agreed site does not look like it was put together with care weeknighttesting: So I was thinking 'yuck, if you look that bad, how well can you function'?

Del Dewar: doesn't help that my wife is a graphic designer. She went 'Eugh' first.. :)

Mike Scott: Also found that in page anchors didn't always seem to go to the right page

Ajay Balamurugadas: When someone teaches you a way to solve a problem, check:

Do they teach you how to tell if it's working?

Do they teach you how to tell if it's going wrong?

Do they teach you heuristics for stopping?

Do they teach you heuristics for knowing when to apply it?

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Do they compare it to alternative heuristics?

Do they show you why it works?

Do they help you understand when it probably works best?

Do they help you know how to re-design it, if needed?

Do they let you own it?

Do they ask you to practice it?

Do they tell stories about how it has failed?

Do they listen to you when you question or challenge it?

Do they praise you for questioning and challenging it?

From <http://www.satisfice.com/blog/archives/462> THE ESSENCE OF HEURISTICS

Ajay Balamurugadas: Del, were these questions answered with your understanding of heuristic?

Ajay Balamurugadas: 'ok, it should answer these questions ' is again a heuristic :)

weeknighttesting: Ajay is it mandatory to have all of the questions answered to be classified as a heuristic?

Del Dewar: maybe not according to JB's definition - A heuristic is a fallible method of solving a problem or making a decision.

Ajay Balamurugadas: Ajay is it mandatory to have all of the questions answered to be classified as a heuristic?[9:19 PM] Ajay Balamurugadas:

<<< 'ok, it should answer these questions ' is again a heuristic :)

Lisa Crispin: fyi, I put our mind map on my site http://lisacrispin.com/downloads/Testing_TinyURL.jpg (or look at my blog <http://lisacrispin.com>)

Mike Scott: I'm sure that heuristic must be written somewhere.

Del Dewar: Lisa - should have run that through TinyURL first :)

Ajay Balamurugadas: maybe not

Ajay Balamurugadas: answer for which question

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

weeknighttesting: Team we have a fantatic discussion ...but unfortunately we are left with 8 more min weeknighttesting: any suggestions for the next session?

Ajay Balamurugadas: :) Del. I would like to take this offline. Will contact you after few days.

Lisa Crispin: Mindmeister!

Del Dewar: No problems, Ajay

Mike Scott: Darren had an idea?

weeknighttesting: Team?

Mike Scott: Darren?

Ajay Balamurugadas: 3 am - brain can just listen,

Ajay Balamurugadas: :)

Darren McMillan: sure I've got a good one

Darren McMillan: need to prep for it

Del Dewar: I know Markus Gartner is building a list of testing challenges. Could we 'borrow' from there?

Darren McMillan: I'll facilitate on the 26th of this month

Darren McMillan: does 7pm sound ok

Darren McMillan: or do we prefer 7:30?

Ajay Balamurugadas: I'll facilitate on the 26th of this month(party)

weeknighttesting: sure we could test it int he next session

Rakesh Reddy: I prefer 7:30

Ajay Balamurugadas: please don't change time. one constant time

Mike Scott: Generally prefer 7:30

weeknighttesting: thanks Darren :)

tonybruceuk: 7:30 works better for me, I get home after 7

Del Dewar: 7.30pm please Darren - need to put kids to bed...

weeknighttesting: I also prfer 730 sounds great :)

Ajay Balamurugadas: Good Day - Thanks - Over & Out

Darren McMillan: I'd rather not facilitate any before the 26th

Lisa Crispin: thanks everyone for letting me join in Darren McMillan: you're more than welcome to do it next week anyone?

tonybruceuk: Right I'm off, night all, have a good evening, for the London peeps heading to Skillsmatter tomorrow, might see you there.

Mike Scott: I thought we were going to do fortnightly annabaik: Perhaps better stick to original pattern?

tonybruceuk: 26th is fortnightly isn't it?

weeknighttesting: Ya for now i feel fortnightly is a good idea

Ajay Balamurugadas: I thought we were going to do fortnightlyMy mistake.

Ajay Balamurugadas: next - 26th weeknighttesting: 26th is fine with me too :)

weeknighttesting: Hope i have a broadband connection by then

WeekNight Testing Session No. 03 Chat Transcript

Brian Osman: Sorry to jump in so late - just to confirm the 26th at 7.30pm GMT?? Im New Zealand so that equates to 8.30am- ish for me...

mike.a.scott: Thanks for facilitating Sharath mike.a.scott: Hi Brian, tonybruceuk: Thanks Sharath

mike.a.scott: Wow we got the clock covered tonight

weeknighttesting: Its always fun facilitating, the discussion today was fantastic tonybruceuk: Oh yeah, and London peeps. The Gathering is next week!

Brian Osman: G'day Mike :)

mike.a.scott: Thanks Rakesh, I'll try and be better organised next time

weeknighttesting: I will b there @ LTG

weeknighttesting: Team time's UP

Darren McMillan: Yeah Brian 7:30PM GMT on the 26th

Brian Osman: awesome - thanks Darren

weeknighttesting: Cool see ya all on 26th at 730
